From the Paris Gazette, dated Jan. 5.

Rome, December 11.

ON the 6th a Congregation of the Holy Office was held in preſence of the Pope, and the Cauſes of the Marqueſs del Buffalo, of Count Carandini, and others accus'd of Hereſie, were adjudg'd. Purſuant thereto, the Marqueſs del Buffalo was led out of Priſon by the Commiſſary of the Inquiſition, and ſet at liberty, but was told he was condemn'd to Baniſhment to Ancona; and that it was expected he ſhould render himſelf thither voluntarily, without being attended by any Sbirries.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 11.

Rome, Dec. 15. The Count de Carandini, has been condemn'd by the Inquiſition to a Baniſhment of 12 Years, during which time he is to reſide at Orvieto. The Pope has lately order'd all the Generals of the Religious Orders, to get each a Statue of the Founders of their Orders cut in Stone to be plac'd in St. Peter's Church; accordingly the General of the Dominicans has already ſent to the Palace a Model of the Statue of St. Dominick. Yeſterday his Holineſs ſaid Maſs privately, for the Soul of the late Dutcheſs of Mantua, who in her Will left him a Crucifix of Gold ſet with Diamonds.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 18.

Rome, Dec. 22. Three Days ago the Pope conferred the Dignity of the Cardinalſhip on Signior Pignatelli late Nuncio in Poland and now Arch-Biſhop of Naples; and to Day Don Annibal Albani the Pope's Nephew ſet out from hence with a Maſter of the Ceremonies to meet him at Urbino, where the Solemnity of putting the Cardinal's Hat on his Head is to be perform'd. The Pope conſidering the preſent Calamities of Europe has forbid the Acting of any Comedies during the Carnival. The Cardinal del Giudice cannot obtain the Pope's Bull for the Biſhoprick of Montreal in Sicily, becauſe of the oppoſition made by the Count de Lamberg the Emperor's Embaſſador. A Congregation of State has been held, on the Umbrage taken by this Court at the Proceedings of France againſt the Duke of Modena.

From the Amſterdam Gazette. Jan. 14.

Munich, Jan 1. The Elector of Bavaria and the Marſhal de Marſin have had a long Conference, to concert Meaſures for ſhutting up this long Campaign. Purſuant to which the Marſhal is march'd from Auſburg towards Nordlingen either to attack that Place or to oblige the Imperialiſts to cover Franconia, while the Bavarian Troops march towards Paſſau. The Count d'Arco began to day to move with the Bavarian Army towards Braunau, where there is a Train of Artillery and all things neceſſary for the Enterprize againſt Paſſau, And to morrow the Elector will joyn thoſe Troops led by the Count d'Arco.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 8.

Frankfort, Jan. 2. The Report that was ſpread of the Garriſon of Kirn's ſurrendring themſelves Priſoners of War to the French is not confirm'd; on the contrary we learn that the Garriſon of the Caſtle of the Caſtle of that place, is in good condition of Defence; and that the Garriſon of the Town is marched out towards the Rhine. We have Advice from Lorrain, that the Envoy of the Duke of Lorrain, being admitted to an Audience of the King of France, and demanding in his Maſter's Name that the French Troops ſhould be order'd to withdraw out of that Dutchy; was anſwer'd that it could not be done yet, becauſe the Frontiers on that ſide were not ſufficiently ſecur'd, and that the Forces of the Duke of Lorrain were not numerous enough to hinder the Germans from penetrating into his Country.

From the Bruſſels Gazette, dated Jan. 1.

Lions, Dec. 21. Monſieur de la Borde Collonel of the Regiment of Firmacon, being quarter'd at Lunel with 4 Companies of Grenadiers, receiving Advice that 200 Camiſars were poſted between Galargas and Aubais, march'd out with 80 Dragoons, met the Rebels, kill'd 12, and put the reſt to flight, whom he purſued till he got over a Hill where he found 300 Camiſars on Foot, and 130 on Horſe-back; he was almoſt ſurrounded by them, and was forc'd to retire through a Defile with the loſs of a Lieutenant and ſome Dragoons. Monſieur de Palmerola, a Collonel, being inform'd that a Party of the Malecontents were gone to burn a Village ſituate on the Louvere, plac'd the Troops he commanded in Ambuſh in a Wood, whither the Rebels coming, he kill'd 60 of them without loſing one Man.

From the Bruſſels Gazette, dated Jan. 8.

Montpelier, Dec. 25. The Camiſars being inform'd that ſome of their Party were carrying Priſoners from Vigan, drew together in great Numbers to ſet them free; the Priſoners were guarded by 4 Companies of Fuſileers, and 200 Men of the ſecond Battallion of the Regiment of Hainau commanded by Monſieur de la Haie Governour of St. Hipolite. The Rebels, tho' ſuperior in Number, were defeated, and above 40 of them were kill'd. In this Action Monſieur de la Haie had 23 Men kill'd and wounded, among them a Captain of the Regiment of Hainau, and a Lieutenant of the Garriſon of St. Hipolite; but not one of the Priſoners was reſcued. The Marſhal de Montrevel has caus'd to be ſeiz'd 3 Piemontois who were going into the Sevennes.

Falmouth, Jan. 13. On the 11th arriv'd here a Ship from Jamaica bound for London, and yeſterday Morning arriv'd the Expedition Pacquet-Boat with one Mail from Lisbon: The ſame Afternoon came in Her Majeſty's Ship the Lime; and this Evening put back here by contrary Winds 2 or 3 Ships which were bound for Lisbon under convoy of Her Majeſty's Ship the Greenwich.

Plymouth, Jan. 14. Yeſterday return'd hither by contrary Winds Her Majeſty's Ships the Bedford and Greenwich, with 15 or 16 Sail of Merchant Ships bound to Portugal and the Straits, &c. which lately ſail'd hence under their convoy, and were got laſt Wedneſday Morning about 25 Leagues to the Weſtward of Scilly when the Wind veer'd to the W. S. W. and as they were going out of the Channel met Her Majeſty's Ship the Lime, who inform'd them that the Grand Fleet was near 30 Leagues a-head of them; ſo that 'tis concluded they were 60 Leagues beyond Scilly before the Wind ſhifted, and will have no occaſion sion to come back, but are making the best of their way for Portugal. This Evening came in Her Majesty's Ships the Kent, Suffolk and Advice, from cruising, who have brought hither a French Merchant Ship of 16 Guns 250 Tons, laden with Sugar, Cotton, Indigo, Logwood, &c. from Martineco, taken by the Kent.
